 Constructions such as
 'make an accusation against', or 'give one's approval for' can be seen as 'stretched' versions of simple verbs, such as
 'accuse' or 'approve of'.
 What is the precise linguistic nature of stretched verbs, and how many basic types are there? What kinds of grammatical connections are involved, and what lexical limits are there on these constructions? What is their precise semantic value? These are some of the questions that this book sets out to answer in its investigation of stretched verb constructions.

 Milliken's Essential English series for grades 1-8 is designed to enable students to use the English language in both written and oral communications effectively and with ease and confidence. Grade 7/8 includes 55 pages with a variety of activities including lessons on types of sentences, direct and indirect objects, independent and subordinate clauses, simple, compound and complex sentences, troublesome words, corrective and correlative conjunctions, gerunds, infinitives, and more. Answer keys are included. Lorenz Educational Press Bestselling author Sherman Alexie tells the story of Junior, a budding cartoonist growing up on the Spokane Indian Reservation. Determined to take his future into his own hands, Junior leaves his troubled school on the rez to attend an all-white farm town high school where the only other Indian is the school mascot. Heartbreaking, funny, and beautifully written, The Absolutely True Diary of a Part-Time Indian, which is based on the author's own experiences, coupled with poignant drawings by Ellen Forney that reflect the character's art, chronicles the contemporary adolescence of one Native American boy as he attempts to break away from the life he was destined to live. With a forward by Markus Zusak, interviews with Sherman Alexie and Ellen Forney, and four-color interior art throughout, this edition is perfect for fans and collectors alike.

Calendar John Wiley & Sons

This book explores the wide range of contexts in which research into creating connections in learning and teaching may take place. Creating connections can encompass making links, crossing divides, forming relationships, building frameworks, and generating new knowledge. The cognitive, cultural, social, emotional and/or physical aspects of understanding, meaning-making, motivating, acting, researching, and evaluating are explored as constituent forms of creativity in relation to such connections. From this exploration the authors identify varied connective contexts and means which include the learner, the educator, the organisation, and the relevant community. The crossing of divides, forming learner-educator relationships, bringing together diverse groups of learners, establishing networks and partnerships among educators, and establishing links between organisations and communities are all considered as connections which can be created by and within the learning and teaching dynamic. By examining the factors which help to facilitate and/or restrict the possibilities for creating connections in educational contexts, implications for and outcomes of learning and/or teaching arise from the connections created. The final chapter of this book will explicate the realisations that have emerged for educators and researchers working to create connections. These offer suggestions for future directions and enunciate what and how connections might contribute to both educational institutions and the broader society.

Excerpt from Junior English Grammar Every teacher of grammar is sentence-hungry, and his need increases with his experience, so that he is driven to foraging in arithmetics and histories and Bibles. Occasionally we dream of a gorgeous feast of 300 - perhaps of even 400 - assorted sentences; we speculate on how much it would cost to have these privately printed. But the cost is too much, or the idea seems extreme - it's too good to be true. So we patiently starve. Probably each of us supposes that his hunger is unnatural - for surely publishers must know what quantity of food will sustain life - and is unwilling to make public avowal of an abnormal craving. At any rate we never satisfy our desire. For my own part I was during twenty years as resigned as any hopeless coolie to a meager diet. Then one day in summer, as I brooded upon the coming pangs of autumn, I made the desperate resolution to gorge myself. I gathered a hundred sentences to exhibit verbs, fifty that were packed with the right kinds of nouns, fifty that contained subjects after the verbs; by hundreds and fifties I gathered them in. It was a banquet to me. For perhaps the first time in history a teacher of grammar was having all he wanted to eat.
