Brilliant and tense, Dany Laferrière's first novel, How to Make Love to a Negro Without Getting Tired, is as fresh and relevant today as when it was first published in Canada in 1985. With ribald humor and a working-class intellectualism on par with Charles Bukowski's or Henry Miller's, Laferrière's narrator wanders the streets and slums of Montreal, has sex with white women, and writes a book to save his life. With this novel, Laferrière began a series of internationally acclaimed social and political novels about the love of the world, and the world of sex, including Heading South and I Am a Japanese Writer. It launched Laferrière as one of the literary world's finest provocateurs and continues to draw strong comparisons to the writings of James Baldwin, Henry Miller, Charles Bukowski, and Jack Kerouac. The book was made into a feature film and translated into several languages — this is the first U.S. edition.

Goldberg is an excellent bestselling author of

The Golden Ratio

Physicist Dave

Goldberg speeds

across space, time and

everything in between showing that our

elegant universe—from the Higgs boson to

antimatter to the most

massive group of

galaxies—is shaped by

hidden symmetries

that have driven all our recent discoveries

about the universe and all the ones to come.

Why is the sky dark at anti-people? Why are options? Saluting the brilliant but unsung female mathematician

Emmy Noether as well

answers these

exuberantly

demonstrating that
