“[Lehane has] emerged from the whodunit ghetto as a broader and more substantial talent....When it comes to keeping readers exactly where he wants them, Mr. Lehane offers a bravura demonstration of how it’s done.” —New York Times Moonlight Mile is the first Patrick Kenzie and Angela Gennaro suspense novel in more than a decade from the acclaimed, New York Times bestselling master of the new noir, Dennis Lehane. An explosive tale of vengeance and redemption—the brilliant sequel to Gone, Baby, Gone—Moonlight Mile returns Lehane’s unforgettable and deeply human detective duo to the mean streets of blue collar Boston to investigate the second disappearance of Amanda McCready, now sixteen years old. After his remarkable success with Mystic River, Shutter Island, and The Given Day, the celebrated author whom the Washington Post praises as, “one of those brave new detective stylists who is not afraid of fooling around with the genre’s traditions,” returns to his roots—and the result, as always, is electrifying.

In a crucial shift within posthumanistic media studies, Bernhard Siegert dissolves the concept of media into a network of operations that reproduce, displace, process, and reflect the distinctions fundamental for a given culture. Cultural Techniques aims to forget our traditional understanding of media so as to redefine the concept through something more fundamental than the empiricist study of a medium’s individual or collective uses or of its cultural semantics or aesthetics. Rather, Siegert seeks to relocate media and culture on a level where the distinctions between object and performance, matter and form, human and nonhuman, sign and channel, the symbolic and the real are still in the process of becoming. The result is to turn ontology into a domain of all that is meant in German by the word Kultur. Cultural techniques comprise not only self-referential symbolic practices like reading, writing, counting, or image-making. The analysis of artifacts as cultural techniques emphasizes their ontological status as “in-betweens,” shifting from firstorder to second-order techniques, from the technical to the artistic, from object to sign, from the natural to the cultural, from the operational to the representational. Cultural Techniques ranges from seafaring, drafting, and eating to the production of the sign-signaldistinction in old and new media, to the reproduction of anthropological difference, to the study of trompe-l’oeils, grids, registers, and doors. Throughout, Siegert addresses fundamental questions of how ontological distinctions can be replaced by chains of operations that process those alleged ontological distinctions within the ontic. Grounding posthumanist theory both historically and technically, this book opens up a crucial dialogue between new German media theory and American postcybernetic discourses.

Now available with a contemporary look, a must-have collection of riveting short stories from the New York Times bestselling author of Mystic River and Shutter Island. “Locations are vivid and crisp, characters are memorable and, most importantly, the story lines dig into you and leave their mark.” —Boston Herald When it comes to contemporary crime fiction there’s no territory quite as dangerous and unpredictable as that of New York Times bestselling author Dennis Lehane. These five short stories and a play are Lehane at his visceral best. In “Running Out of Dog,” a vet returning from Vietnam is asked to redirect the violent skills he learned overseas to deal with his hometown’s rampant population of strays. “ICU” follows a hunted man who finds refuge in the oddest place imaginable. Surprises await a gang of Texas high-school football jocks who lay siege to a luxury home in the suburbs in “Gone Down to Corpus.” And in “Mushrooms,” a simple theft triggers a series of murders that forces a disillusioned young girl to consider her next move. This collection also includes “Until Gwen” and its stage adaptation, Coronado, which expands on the trenchant tale of a morally bankrupt conman father, his ill-fated son, and the woman they have in common. In Lehane’s capable hands, each story faces unflinchingly the darkest depths of the human experience—sin and redemption, loss and longing, flesh and blood—delivering a knockout punch that’ll have readers reeling.

Studienarbeit aus dem Jahr 2012 im Fachbereich Germanistik - Neuere Deutsche Literatur, Note: 2,0, Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München (Institut für deutsche Philologie), Veranstaltung: Proseminar Körper und Seele, Sprache: Deutsch, Abstract: Realität, Fiktion und Wahn - Wahrheit oder Lüge. Der schmale Grat zwischen diesen Aspekten wird in Martin Scorseses Film Shutter Island in einer überaus komplexen und vielschichtigen Handlung realisiert. Wie kann man eine fingierte Realität von einer realen Fiktion unterscheiden? Der schmale Grat zwischen diesen Themen liegt darin, dass in Shutter Island die Grenzen zwischen Realität, Fiktion, Wahn, Wahrheit oder gar Lüge gänzlich verschwimmen. Komplettiert wird diese Handlung durch den besonderen Kontext der Isolation, der sowohl in dem Kontext des Schauplatzes einer abgelegenen Insel als auch im Zusammenhang mit dem Seelenleben des Protagonisten verwirklicht wird. In der Romanverfilmung Shutter Island erhält der Zuschauer einen Einblick in das durch Traumata bestimmte Leben des alkoholkranken Protagonisten Teddy Daniels. Die Traumata des Protagonisten haben zweierlei Ursachen: die Erlebnisse aus dem Zweiten Weltkrieg und der Tod seiner Ehefrau Dolores. Der Film selbst lässt ich mehrere narrative Fragmente unterteilen, die erst am Ende puzzleartig zur Biografie des Protagonisten zusammengefügt werden und somit ein Gesamtkonstrukt ergeben. So gibt es einerseits das erlebte Jetzt des Protagonisten, dessen Vergangenheit sowie andererseits die Geschichte der Nebenfiguren, u.a. die der flüchtigen Patientin Rachel Solando aus der Klinik. In den folgenden Ausführungen soll die narrative Komplexität des Films durch die Analyse nachstehender Themen behandelt werden: die Verbindung von Erzählen durch den Körper im Film, der Wahn als ein körperliches und seelisches Phänomen sowie das Wiedererleben von Vergangenem in umgestalteter Form. Zu diesem Zwecke werde ich auf bestimmte Sequenzen eingehen, die eine Fokussierung auf den Körper aufweisen, um ferner ausgesuchte Aspekte der filmischen Ich-Perspektive zu analysieren. Im weiteren Verlauf werden für eine möglichst differenzierte Untersuchung des Films auf die Fragmentierung der Geschichte, die wechselnde Erzählperspektive und die Irreführung des Zuschauers eingegangen. Hierbei werde ich mich auf bestimmte Elemente beschränken müssen, da eine Untersuchung eines jeden einzelnen Fragments den Rahmen dieser Arbeit bei Weitem sprengen würde. Abschließend werde ich mich intensiver mit ausgewählten psychologischen und medizinischen Gesichtspunkten der psychotischen Symptomatik, und die Frage, wie diese im Film wiedergegeben wird, auseinandersetzen.
